Foreword

While enrolled in a course at the University 1937-38 in a course taught by Dr. Eby, the writer undertook the beginnings of a term paper, the subject of which was a documentary history of the Southwest Texas State Teacher's College. The trend of thought was permanently diverted for that year by delving so deeply into the beginnings of the College that the original paper was postponed to a future date. The investigation for that year resulted in some 350 pages relative to the San Marcos Chautauqua, the grounds of which were later donated by the city of San Marcos to be used by the State Normal School, the school being opened in 1903-04.

Enrolling again in 1938-39 the writer resumed the documentary paper where the account of the Chautauqua left off, this report being the result. Several former students have written on the history of the College from various view points, but none, so far as is known, have gone into the history with quite the completeness that is shown in this paper. It will be seen that evidence has been obtained from thoroughly reliable documents and interviews and is here carefully recorded. While pointing out the thoroughness of the work so far as the investigation has been made, the writer at the same time recognizes the incompleteness of the paper due to the fact that so many of the interesting phases of the history of the College have not been included. It is to be hoped that in the near future the work will be resumed.

Under the direction and inspiration of Dr. Eby, this paper has been made possible. Thanks, also, are here expressed to President C. E. Evans, for suggestions and documents; E. B. Jackson, librarian, for aid rendered through the library; and for the help from the Registrar's office by L. H. Kidd and Hattie Roberts. During the hot summer afternoons of 1939 Dorothy Matthies has faithfully seen that the typing of the paper was accomplished.

Chapter I

Early Recognition of Teacher Training Problems in Texas

The Anglo-Americans no doubt had many very good reasons for finding fault with the Mexican government in Texas, but it is questionable whether the complaint regarding the failure to establish any system of public education was justifiable. When one considers the inadequacy of educational advantages as they existed in the states from which the majority of these colonists had come, one is prone to wonder if this clause found in the Declaration of Independence did not have in it an element of unfairness.

Careful study reveals to the student, however, that Mexico had not been wholly neglectful of her responsibilities, but it was true before independence just as it was afterward, that schools are easier of erection on paper than in reality. Early in the days of the new Republic it is found that men of thought and vision were looking far enough into the future to realize that schools were an immediate need and that in order for the desired efficiency to be maintained trained teachers were needed. They pointed out that with the boundless sources of natural wealth, people of intelligence and ability would be attracted to this domain and that they must be ready to meet the demands of these expected settlers.

In the sources given in this chapter the writer is attempting to trace the growth of the idea of the needs of Texas educationally which eventually led to the establishment of normal schools whose one and only purpose it was to furnish trained teachers. A reflection of the thought of the time is given in this extract.

Report of the Committee on Education

But the teaching profession needs equally to be guarded against the intrusion of ignorant and incompetent, as well as vicious aspirants. Persons themselves who have not learned to think, how shall they teach others to think? Can those who have received no severe mental training be expected to furnish such a training to others? Such teachers, or rather empirics, may keep youth about the vestibule of knowledge, but can never conduct them beyond the threshold of mental accomplishment--and it is idle to expect such a result from those who themselves have never passed the threshold. What we want, then, is teachers who will appreciate the responsibility of dealing with beings just forming their character for personal happiness and relative usefulness. Teachers who shall be qualified to train both the intellect and heart of those who are just beginning to think and feel on the momentous and complicated interests of human life--of domestic and social, and civil and religious privilege and duties.

But to secure such teachers, the teaching profession must take a more elevated stand in public estimation. Its importance to the whole community must be more generally felt and acknowledged. This will require a corresponding elevation of the standard of professional qualification in the instruction of the youth. Such an elevation as will demand a degree of native talent, and a severity and extent of mental discipline and professional training on the part of the teacher of youth by no means inferior to that required by any of the learned professions. In order to do this, inducements must be held out sufficient to make the teaching profession to be sought and pursued by those whose talents and accomplishments would entitle them to a far higher rank in the public estimation than has usually been accorded to the mere school master. This cannot be done until quack school masters are discountenanced--until they are regarded with the same disgust and odium which ought to drive the empiric doctor and pettifogging lawyer from every intelligent and refined community.¹

In the idealistic educational plans outlined by A. J. Yates to President Lamar in 1839 he includes teacher training as a part of his report.

In each Academy, male or female, there shall be a department of instruction specially appropriate to the education of Teachers of common schools, and the persons instructed therein shall receive a liscence to teach, after having pursued a course of study for three years after they have arrived at the age of 15. Students may be admitted to the Academies on examination by the Teacher, and one or more of the Trustees.¹

¹Lamar Papers, Texas State Library. Reported by A. J. Yates to Mirabeau B. Lamar, March 4, 1839, as given in Eby, Frederick: Education in Texas: Source Materials.

In an address delivered before an educational convention in Houston in January 1846 an emphasis is seen again on the need of trained teachers.

But how shall correct education be secured to all the youth of Texas? Most assuredly by the establishment of a good system of education in connection with institutions of a high order. To effect this object, well taught, able, and Christian teachers are wanted. They are essential to good schools. They should be formed after the right model; their principles and characters developed in due proportions, themselves examples of human excellence. Teachers must be prepared in our own institutions, as they will never come from abroad in sufficient numbers to supply our wants. They must be raised up and qualified on the spot, to go forth to the work of elevating this empire of mind and heart. A teachers' department should be established immediately in the colleges now in operation in Texas, where they shall be prepared for their task, not only by a course of instruction designed for their personal improvement, but by teaching them how to instruct and educate.¹

¹An address on Education: Delivered before the Educational Convention of Texas, in the city of Houston, January 1846, as given in Eby, Frederick: Education in Texas: Source Materials.

In discussing the establishment of a State university, it was suggested that a normal school be a part of the institution.

Message of Governor Runnels to the Seventh Legislature

Discussing the establishment of a university.

It should be determined at your present session to establish the institution, I would suggest the propriety of connecting therewith, a Normal School, for the education of teachers of the common schools. The tuition to be gratis, and the scholars to be selected from the different portions of the State in such number and upon such terms as may be provided by law. The studies of this school should be prescribed and confined to the useful and practical branches of education, not omitting mechanics and agriculture. It is easy to perceive the good that may flow from such a branch of the university in the number of qualified teachers it would afford annually, to every division of the state.¹

¹Message of Hardin R. Runnels, Governor of the State of Texas, printed by order of the Seventh Legislature, p. 21-24 as given in Eby, Frederick: Education in Texas: Source Material.

Ten years later during the days of Reconstruction with the university still not a reality the superintendent of public instruction suggests that a normal school should be a part of one school system.

E. M. Wheelock, Superintendent of Public Instruction
Report to Governor Pease

No practical steps have yet been taken toward the location and establishment of this institution (the University.) But when once our state is dotted with common schools in full operation, for the education of the children of the people, these will naturally require to be supplemented by High, graded and Normal schools, adapted to pupils of a larger growth, and these again crowned by a University.¹

¹Report of Supt. of Public Instruction E. M. Wheelock to Governor E. M. Pease. Journal of the Reconstruction Convention which met in Austin in 1868, p. 42-43, as given in Eby, Frederick: Education in Texas: Source Materials.

In the Journal of the Constitutional Convention of 1875 Mr. Erhard submitted several propositions to make the schools better, among which appears the following resolution relative to teacher training.

That at a suitable time the Legislature may establish a normal school for the proper training and education of male and female teachers for elementary school.¹

¹Journal of the Constitutional Convention of the State of Texas, begun and held in the City of Austin, September 6, 1875, p. 55-57, as given in Eby, Frederick: Education in Texas: Source Materials.

It was at this time, following the death of George Peabody the philanthropist in 1869, the $3,500,000 left by him for the Southern Education Fund became available. The general agent, B. Sears, made a survey of conditions in Texas, being accompanied on the investigation by the able Rufus C. Burleson. It was through these negotiations with Governor O. M. Roberts that our first teacher training institution, Sam Houston Normal Institute at Huntsville was established, as was, at the same time, Prairie View, for the training of colored teachers, being located at Hempstead. This act was signed by Governor Roberts on April 21, a date designated in recent years as Teachers' College Day.

Report of the Peabody Agent

In all the arrangements recently made with the cities of Texas, this object has been kept distinctly in view. Assistance has been promised on condition that the schools of each city shall be put in charge of a Superintendent who has had a professional training and experience, and who shall be able to train the existing corps of teachers by weekly instructions, as well as to superintend the schools and direct the teachers in their daily work. Until Normal Schools shall be established, this kind of training in the cities, and teachers institutes in all parts of the state, will be indispensable.¹.

October 1, 1879

The Governor, in several messages, explained his views more fully, and endeavored to correct the impression that he was not friendly to free schools, adding that the existing schools were of little value, and that they could not be much improved until the Normal Schools should train a better class of teachers.

The most hopeful step that was taken by the Legislature at its regular session was that of establishing two Normal Schools, one for each race. I visited the state last winter, and after many interviews with leading men, proposed to the legislature, through the Governor, to make a donation of $6,000, to be continued during the pleasure of this Board, if the state would establish and maintain a first class Normal School.

The Governor advocated the measure in a special message, and a law to that effect was accordingly passed, making the annual appropriation of $14,000. The location of the school was fixed at Huntsville. There have been some objections made to the location, yet as an offer of its college building was made, free of charge, it was accepted. But for this offer the bill might not have passed. Provision is made of paying all the expenses of the seventy-four state pupils. The colored Normal school, established at the same time, is to be at Prairie View with the annual appropriations of $6,000 and a given number of scholarships. ¹

Messages of Governor Roberts

Austin, February 1, 1879

His Excellency, O. M. Roberts, Governor of Texas:

Sir--I beg leave to address, through you, to the General Assembly of the State, the following proposition, to-wit: If the Legislature shall see fit to establish a first-class normal school, and to appropriate for its current expenses $6,000 per annum, the trustees of the Peabody Educational Fund will duplicate that sum for the same purpose for a period of two years, with the expectation of renewing the arrangement from year to year after that period during the pleasure of both parties.

Your Obedient Servant
 B. Sears, General Agent

I would respectfully suggest that should such a school be established, the building for which might be easily obtained by gift or rent, the Legislature might direct the counties to reserve that portion of the money appropriated to them each year, for which no scholars are taught, or even that for which no scholars are enrolled in school communities, and set it apart annually as a fund for the support of scholars at the normal school to the extent of paying their board and tuition. ¹

Chapter CLX.---An act to establish a State Normal School.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas, That there shall be established in this state, a state normal school, to be known as the "Sam Houston Normal Institute," in honor of Gen. Sam Houston, the father of Texas; and said institute shall be located at the college formerly known as the "Austin College," at Huntsville shall, within sixty days from the passage of this act, convey to the state for the purposes of said school a valid title to said Austin College, and the grounds belonging thereto; said conveyance to be approved by the governor and attorney general.

Sec. 2. The board of education shall have possession and charge of said institute on the state's receiving a conveyance of the same, and on or before the first day of September next said board shall put into operation a normal school, which shall be conducted in a first-class manner, and under such rules and regulations, as to the government and discipline thereof, as may be prescribed by said board.

Sec. 3. Not less than two students from each senatorial district, and six from the state at large, shall be received in said institute, as state students, who shall receive tuition, board and lodging free, to the extent of the appropriation that may be made, but in no case shall the current expenses of the institute exceed the sum or sums appropriated. The board of education shall make all necessary rules and regulations for the admission of students, and the manner of their appointment or selection. No student shall be received who is not a resident of this state, and at least of the age of sixteen years, and of good moral character.

Sec. 4. All students attending said institute at expense of the state, as provided in the foregoing section, shall sign a written obligation, in a book, to be kept at the institute for that purpose, binding said students to teach in the public free schools of their respective districts at least one year next after their discharge from the normal school, and as much longer than one year as the time of their attendance at said school shall exceed one year; for which teaching said student shall receive the same compensation allowed other teachers of said schools, and said board of education shall make rules by which students may receive certificates of qualification as teachers authorizing them to teach without further examination.

Sec. 5. The board of education may authorize other students to be admitted into said institute, who shall be required to pay tuition, in whole or in part, as may be prescribed by the board. Said board shall appoint the teachers of said institute and fix their salaries, not to exceed two thousand dollars for the principal and fifteen hundred dollars for assistants.

Sec. 6. The board of education shall appoint a local board of three directors, who shall hold frequent meetings at the institute, have general supervision of the buildings and grounds, and shall perform such other duties pertaining to the institute, and make such reports to the board of education as said board may require. Said directors shall each receive an annual salary, not to exceed one hundred dollars, to be paid out of the fund hereinafter appropriated.

Sec. 7. It shall be the duty of the comptroller of public accounts, annually, to set apart, out of the available free school fund, the sum of fourteen thousand dollars for the support of said normal school, and place the same to its credit, and which may be drawn upon by the board of education, for the current expenses of said school, on vouchers audited by said board or approved by the governor and attested by the secretary; and on filing said vouchers the comptroller shall draw his warrant on the state treasurer for the same. The board of education is authorized to receive from the agent of the trustees of the Peabody education fund such sum as he may tender for the aid of said institute and shall disburse the same in such manner as will best subserve the interests of said institute.

Sec. 8. The importance of the early establishment of a state normal school, and the near approach of the adjournment of the present session of the Legislature creates an emergency and imperative public necessity for this act to take effect at once, and for the suspension of the rule requiring bills to be read on three several days, and it is therefore enacted that said rule be suspended, and that this act take effect and be in force from and after its passage.

Approved April 21, A. D., 1879.

1. Takes effect ninety days after adjournment.

General Laws of the State of Texas, passed at the Regular Session of the Sixteenth Legislature. p. 182-183.

Chapter III.-- An act supplementary to "an act to establish a State Normal School, approved April 21, 1879.

Whereas, The citizens of Huntsville, Walker county, have tendered to the state a warrantee title to the buildings and grounds lately known as "Austin College," located at Huntsville, at which place the "Sam Houston Normal Institute" has been established by the fore-re-cited act, but the chain of title is not perfect so as to vest a clearly legal title in the state, and further time is required to formally perfect the title; and,

Whereas, the said citizens have paid the purchase money due on said buildings and grounds, and have been placed in possession of the same and are desirous of delivering possession of the same in good repair to the state for the establishment of said institute, and propose to guarantee to the state a perfect title to the same; and,

Whereas, it is important that said institute be opened at the earliest day practicable, which creates an emergency for the immediate passage and taking effect of this act; therefore,

Section 1. Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas, That the state board of education is authorized and required to accept possession of said buildings and grounds from the citizens of Huntsville, on receiving from them such bond or guarantee of a valid legal title to the same in the state within twelve months from the passage of this act, the bond or guarantee to be payable to the state, and in such sum, not to exceed fifty thousand dollars, and conditioned as the governor and attorney general shall prescribe; and a further guarantee from said citizens that said buildings shall be placed in such reasonable repair as the board of education may require, including a new plank fence around the grounds.

Sec. 2. That on receiving such guarantees and possession of said buildings and grounds, it shall be the duty of said board to establish rules and regulations, appoint a local board of directors and open said institute for students, as provided in the act approved April 21, 1879, entitled "An act to establish a state normal school."

Sec. 3. That this act shall be in force from its passage.

Approved June 23, A. D. 1879.

Takes effect from and after its passage.^{1.}

General Laws of the State of Texas, Regular Session of the Sixteenth Legislature.

Governor Roberts reviewed the progress made in school matters, pointing with pride to the two normal schools in operation. He informed the Legislature that because of the success of these two schools he would recommend the establishing of two more such schools. This, however, was not carried out until twenty years later. The Southwest Texas State Teachers' College at San Marcos is one of the results of this resolve, made possible as will be seen later by an act passed in 1899, the other being the North Texas State Teachers' College at Denton established the same year.

The governor's suggestion of naming the new schools for Sears and Peabody was not carried out and it is doubtful if the significance of those names are today well known.

Had the idea for public free schools not proved popular at this time there would have been little use in establishing normal schools. It was during this period that summer normal institutes were established, and, according to the state superintendent Benjamin M. Baker they, with the normal schools proved to be powerful instruments in advancing the profession of teaching. He stated further in his report for 1885 it was probable that no state could boast of a better qualified, more conscientious corps of public school teachers. It is unnecessary to call attention to the error in such a statement when we know of the advancement that had already been made by Massachusetts and other Eastern States. Had the superintendent limited his region to "South of the Red and west of the Sabine" there would have been less error.

Message of the Governor

Seventeenth Legislature

Upon the recommendation of a State board of teachers assembled in Austin, a law was passed and put into operation, that classed teachers into three grades, and paid them accordingly, and required them to induce the children to come to school by making the amount of their compensation partly depend upon it. The result was that more scholars were taught longer than before, a normal school for the education of teachers was established, aided by the Peabody Educational Fund, and it was all done with much less expenditure of money from the Treasury.

In the school established at Huntsville there have been supported, except clothing, seventy-four pupils last year, and provision made for ninety-three this year.

The splendid success of this school will induce me to request that at least two more such schools be established, one in the Northern and the other in Southwestern Texas.

Should there be two more said schools provided for, I beg to suggest the propriety of naming one of them after Dr. B. Sears, and the other after Mr. Peabody, as a just tribute of respect for those who have aided us in our efforts to build up a good system of public schools.¹.

Message of the Governor of Texas to the Seventeenth Legislature--9-10. O. M. Roberts, Governor, 1881, as given in Eby, Frederick: Education in Texas: Source Material, p.751.

Message of the Governor
to the
Eighteenth Legislature

Two normal schools have been established, one for white and one for colored pupils, whose expenses at the schools are borne by the State, in which there are now about two hundred pupils, who are being taught and trained to become teachers in our public schools.

Summer normal institutes have been established during the last two years, which have been numerous attended by the teachers of the State.

It is proper here to note our obligations for the liberal contributions of the Peabody fund to our white normal school, to the summer normal institutes, and to other free schools and cities and towns in Texas.

One of the greatest obstacles in the way of reaching proper conclusions by educators, and many other friends of education, is their constant failure to keep strictly in view the specific objects of the State in instituting public schools, as indicated by the constitution and laws of the state.

They habitually devise plans for general education, irrespective of the school in which it is to be taught; whereas the object of the State in regard to each school is specific. For instance, the public free schools are instituted and requested by the Constitution and law to teach the mass of people such branches as are necessary for intelligent citizenship in a republican government. Normal schools are instituted to train and perfect the education of pupils sufficiently to enable them to be competent teachers in the public free schools. Summer Normal institutes are designed to train and improve teachers who are already engaged in the business of teaching.¹.

CHAPTER II

Matters Relative to the Establishment of the Southwest Texas State Normal School.

In his message to the Seven-teenth Legislature in 1881 Governor O. M. Roberts in reporting on the splendid success of the two recently established Normal Schools, Sam Houston Normal Institute at Huntsville and Prairie View (Colored) at Hempstead announced that he planned to ask that two more Normal Schools be established. One was to be in north Texas and the other in the southwest. Practically twenty years had elapsed, however before the act was passed this being under the governorship of Joseph D. Sayers and during the session of the Twenty-sixth Legislature.

In the meantime with the growing organization of teachers, the need for the establishment of Normal Schools came to be agitated. In a Teachers' Institute that was held in San Marcos in December 1892 the following action was taken by the body.

The Teachers' Institute for the senatorial district met at the San Marcos school last Saturday and a most interesting program was disposed of.

The following resolutions were also promulgated:

San Marcos, Texas
Dec. 17, 1892

To the Honorable Legislature of Texas

Whereas there exists a keenly felt necessity for the establishment of one or more State Normal Schools, in order to accommodate the increasing number of young men and women who seek to qualify themselves for teaching in this State; therefore,

Resolved, that we, the teachers of the 21st Senatorial District, assembled at San Marcos, respectfully petition your honorable body at its next regular session to take the necessary steps to establish at least one more State Normal in this State, to be located in Southwest Texas .

A. Anderson
H. Reed
S. W. Stanfield

Hays County Times. Dec. 23, 1892.

At a later date when it became certain that a school would be established, Judge Wood of San Marcos urged the representatives from this district to use their efforts for the establishment of this school at San Marcos.

Judge Wood of San Marcos introduced his resolution requesting the representatives of the district to use their efforts to secure an appropriation for the erection of a State Normal School on Chautauqua Hill, near San Marcos donated by the citizens of that place to the State for that purpose. Mr. Fred Cocke spoke on the resolution, and in glowing terms pictured the beauties of the site on which the school is to be located.

Hays County Times, Jan. 25, 1900.

The documentary evidence of the establishment of the school together with catalog information is given in the pages which follow.

LOCATION

The one matter upon which there is no difference of opinion is that in all the advantages of a beautiful site amid inspiring surroundings, the location of the Southwest Texas Normal is ideal. In regard to this location, the following statements, which clearly portray but do not in any way exaggerate the native charms and wholesome environments of the situation, are taken from an address issued by a citizens' meeting held in San Marcos, January 5, 1901.

"All over the broad State of Texas, San Marcos is renowned for its beautiful river and healthful location, for its schools, its churches and the high moral tone of its citizenship.

"Nestling in the valley and dotting the hillsides with its homes, the town of San Marcos is near the head of the river that gives her name. Ten churches rear their spires heavenward, beacons that bespeak a God-fearing and law-abiding community.

"On eminences overlooking the town, 'Coronal Institute' and the public school building indicate her interest in education, and well paved and macadamized streets emphasize the public spirit and enterprise of her people. More than thirty mercantile establishments do lucrative business with the town and vicinity, while other industries give employment to her energetic citizens.

"A glance at a railroad map of the State will easily disclose the advantages of San Marcos for a State institution, by reason of its accessibility. Two great trunk lines of railroad with their close connections make it possible for the student whose means require a close calculation of expenses to reach his school in San Marcos without the disadvantages of vexations and costly delay, occasioned by faculty connections or a long circuit of unnecessary railroad travel.

"Near the head of the San Marcos river, and overlooking its meanderings, a cedar crowned hill, whose beauty attracts the eye of every visitor, which for years was the home of the San Marcos Chautauqua, has been donated by the city of San Marcos to the State of Texas as a site for this Normal School.

"The fitness of the location is recognized and approved by all who have been so fortunate as to visit it, commanding as it does, an almost limitless view and presenting on every side an attractive landscape.

"At the very foot of the hill lie the premises of the United States Fish Cultural Station, yet in its earlier years, but presenting a picture of varied water and landscape scenery, which when fully developed will have no rival in attractiveness and practical utility, which in itself will be suggestive to pupils of the Normal School of new fields for their study and investigation. The advantages of proximity to the Fish Cultural Station will be apparent to all who favor the widest scope of instruction in our public schools.

"It has been said that in no respect has the wisdom of the American statesman been more fully displayed than in the selection of the sites for the two great schools, the Military Academy at West Point and the Naval Academy at Annapolis. Meet them where you may, in tented field on warship-deck, or in the social circles, the graduates of these schools never fail in attributing to the surroundings of their "Alma Mater" an influence for good, that, perhaps, would have never been manifest had their locations been other than they are.

"At West Point, the lordly Hudson, flowing through the beautiful hills, presents a landscape of indescribable grandeur, and blended with its romantic history, leaves fixed in the minds of the young soldiers who are educated there an appreciation of duty, a manliness that few forget, and no school in the world has graduated a higher class of men in all the attributes of honor, courage, and patriotism. Nor can less be said of the fitness of Annapolis as the Naval School. The broad Severn River and the beautiful Chesapeake Bay are suggestive of the lives these young sailors must lead, and all agree that perhaps no other location on our coast would have had the same elevating and ennobling effect that this one has.

"What then may be said of San Marcos, the seat of one of the States great institutions? Its river not lordly but more beautiful than the Hudson, with hills more picturesque; no sight of sea, but a landscape stretching far and away and presenting a varying view of hill and dale fair as the fairest of the land.

"The river, pure as a maiden's dream, will prove suggestive of high aims and noble ambitions, and the green hills will have their influence, giving to the State as a disburser of its bounty, teachers who, while drinking deep from the fountain of knowledge, will have absorbed from their surroundings a"ennobling influence, a sense of duty that will impel them to their best efforts"

SOUTHWEST TEXAS NORMAL SCHOOL

S. B. No 260

An Act to provide for the establishment, maintenance and government of a State normal school to be located at San Marcos, in Hays county, Texas, and to be known as the Southwest Texas Normal School.

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That there shall be established at San Marcos, Hays county, Texas, and on the plot of ground containing about eleven acres, and known as Chautauqua Hill, a State Normal School, to be known as the Southwest Texas Normal School, provided the said city of San Marcos and the citizens thereof shall, without charge or cost to the State, and within sixty days after this act takes effect, convey, or cause to be conveyed unto the State of Texas, a good and perfect title in and to the aforesaid eleven acres of land known as the Chatauqua Hill, situated in said city of San Marcos, together with all buildings and improvements incident or appertaining thereto. The sufficiency of said conveyance to be passed upon and determined by the Governor and Attorney-General.

That the deed of conveyance aforesaid upon being approved by the Governor and Attorney-General, shall pass said property to the State, and thereafter the same shall be under the management and control of the State Board of Education for the purpose of establishing and maintaining the aforesaid Southwest Texas Normal School, which shall be done so soon as said State Board of Education shall deem it advisable, and suitable provisions are made to carry into effect this act.

The fact that there is now no normal school in southwest Texas, and persons preparing themselves for teachers are put to great and unnecessary expense in attending the Sam Houston Normal, thereby entailing a great and unnecessary hardship upon the public school system in the southwest part of the State, creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that this act take effect from and after its passage, and it is so enacted.

(Note.--The enrolled bill shows that the foregoing act passed the Senate, by vote, yeas 15, nays 11; and reported to the House, where it was amended and passed, vote not given. Senate concurred in House amendment, vote not given.)

Whereas, by act of the Twenty-sixth Legislature, a school to be known as the Southwest Texas Normal School was located at San Marcos, Hays county, Texas, eleven acres of land known as Chautauqua Hill was donated to the State of Texas by the city of San Marcos for the purposes of said school and which donation has been accepted by the State by the approval of the title to said land by the Governor and Attorney General and

Whereas, for the educational convenience and needs of Southwest Texas, said school is a pressing necessity, therefore,

Be it enacted by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

SECTION 1. That said Southwest Texas Normal School be and the grounds belonging to same are placed under the management, control and direction of the State Board of Public Education for the State, and that said board at the earliest practical moment proceed to have erected on the aforesaid eleven acres of land, suitable and necessary buildings for the accommodation of the pupils in said school, said buildings to be substantial and fire-class in every particular, supplied with the necessary furniture, lights, water and heating apparatus, such as may be deemed proper by said board, and the grounds improved and beautified to the extent that the said board may deem necessary.

Sec. 2. The Board of Education shall have the same power and control as to admission of the pupils to the Southwest Texas Normal School as it has to the admission of the pupils to the Sam Houston Normal Institute, and the rules and regulations provided by Institute shall apply in all respects so far as applicable to the government and control of the Southwest Texas Normal School.

Sec. 3. The State Board of Education shall appoint a local board of three trustees for the said Southwest Texas Normal School, who shall be residents of the city of San Marcos and who shall perform such duties as may be required by the State Board of Education and such other duties as are required by law of the local board of the Sam Houston Normal Institute and shall receive the same compensation; and the State Board of Education shall exercise all of the powers and control over the Southwest Texas Normal School that said board is authorized by law to exercise over the Sam Houston Normal Institute and the salaries of teachers shall never exceed what is allowed by law for teachers in the Sam Houston Normal.

Sec. 4. The sum of thirty-five thousand dollars is hereby appropriated out of the general revenue, twenty-five thousand dollars of which shall be for the purpose of erecting and equipping the buildings of the Southwest Texas Normal School and ten thousand for the running expenses of such institution after the completion of said buildings.

Sec. 5. The money appropriated by this act may be drawn upon for the purposes aforesaid by the State Board of Education on vouchers audited by said board and approved by the Governor and on filing such vouchers with the Comptroller he shall draw his warrant on the State Treasurer for the amount in favor of said board; provided, that this money shall not be drawn unless the Governor in his discretion thinks the condition of the treasury will permit the use of the money for the purposes of this act.

Sec. 6. So soon as the necessary buildings for the Southwest Texas Normal School are completed or in condition for the reception and accommodation of pupils, the Board of Public Education shall make this fact known in such way as said board may deem effective and shall at once proceed to at once open and organize said school by the employment of the necessary number of teachers, and the number of teachers may be increased by the board from time to time as the increased attendance of pupils may demand; provided, at no time any debt shall be created by the board in excess of the money appropriated for the purposes of said act and for the support and maintenance of this school.

Sec. 7. The fact that there is no normal school in Southwest Texas and the education and training of teachers is badly needed in that section, creates an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days be suspended, and that said rule is hereby suspended.

(Note.--The enrolled bill shows that the foregoing act passed the Senate by yeas 20, nays 4; and was reported to the House of Representatives where it was amended and passed, no vote given; Senate concurred in House amendments, no vote given.)

Approved March 28, 1901

Takes effect 90 days after adjournment.

PURPOSES

This is a Normal School, established for the education of teachers. Its distinctive purpose is to fit young men and young women for the profession of teaching. Scholarship is an essential element in the preparation that fits for the profession of teaching. Hence the purpose will be to conduct such educational processes as will result in scholarship. But, in addition to scholarship, the teacher needs such special training as will give insight into the problems of education and efficiency in the art of teaching. This school will aim to meet this demand. It should be kept in mind, however, that this school is not a university, or even a college. It is a Normal School. It will therefore not hope or endeavor to give its students a university or college education. It may hope to lead its students to see the advantages of higher education, and it may hope to influence them to seek these advantages in college or university; but it can not undertake itself to give them.

With in the scope of its curriculum its aim will be thoroughness, soundness, and accuracy in scholarship; but this scope is limited to the field of accepted Normal School work, and beyond this scope there will be no pretense to academic training. In connection with, and in addition to, the acquisition of the scholarship that should come from the mastery of the established curriculum, serious, systematic, persistent effort will be made to direct students in such lines of thought and investigation as will lead to acquaintance with the history of education with approved methods of teaching, with the fundamental principles of the science of education and the art of teaching. These in brief, will be the purposes of the school.

HISTORY

The first important step toward the establishment of a State Normal School at San Marcos was taken in 1893 by the Twenty-third Legislature in the passage of an act from which this extract is taken: "Teachers holding a diploma from a Texas Normal School, or from the Peabody Normal School at Nashville, Tennessee, or the North Texas Normal College at Denton, Texas, or the Coronal Institute at San Marcos, Texas, may teach in the public schools of this State during good behavior, and such diplomas shall rank as permanent certificates; and such teachers shall not be subject to examination by any board of examiners; provided, that the State Board of Education, together with the State Superintendent of Public Instruction, shall prescribe the course of study which teachers shall complete in the North Texas Normal College and Coronal Institute, before their diplomas from the same shall have the force of life certificates," etc.

While the management of Coronal Institute, because of an unwillingness to change the course of study to that of a normal school, did not take advantage of the privileges offered in the statute quoted, yet this act of the Legislature had an important effect in centering attention upon San Marcos as a favorable location for a State Normal School.

At its regular session in 1899, the Twenty-sixth Legislature passed "An Act to provide for the establishment, maintenance, and government of a State Normal School to be located at San Marcos, in Hays county, Texas, and to be known as the Southwest Texas Normal School." By the terms of this act the Normal was located "on a plot of ground containing about eleven acres, and known as Chautauqua Hill," donated to the State for this purpose by "the city of San Marcos and the citizens thereof," and this "said property" was placed "under the management and control of the State Board of Education, for the purpose of establishing and maintaining the aforesaid Southwest Texas Normal School, which shall be done so soon as the said Board of Education shall deem it advisable, and suitable provisions are made to carry into effect this act."

By an act approved March 28, 1901, the Twenty-seventh Legislature, at its regular session, appropriated the sum of twenty-five thousand dollars for the erection of a building for the use of the Southwest Texas Normal School, placed the school under the management of the State Board of Education, authorized the State Board of Education to "appoint a local board of three trustees for the Southwest Texas Normal," made the rules and regulations provided by law for the government of the Sam Houston Normal Institute applicable so far as practicable to the government and control of the Southwest Texas Normal School, gave the State Board of Education authority to "exercise all the powers and control over the Southwest Texas Normal that said board is authorized by law to exercise over the Sam Houston Normal Institute," and directed "that said board, at the earliest practical moment, proceed to have erected on the aforesaid eleven acres of land suitable and necessary buildings for the accommodation of the pupils in said school."

At its second called session, by an act approved October 2, 1901, the Twenty-seventh Legislature appropriated an additional sum of twenty thousand dollars to "complete building and equip same."

The State Board of Education at once appointed Hon. W. D. Wood, Hon. Ed. J. L. Green, and Hon. S. V. Daniel members of the Local Board of Trustees. Under the immediate supervision of this Local Board, with the general direction and approval of the State Board of Education, the magnificent brick building that now stands upon the crest of Chautauqua Hill was planned, erected, and equipped.

In April, 1903, the State Board of Education elected the principal and teachers, whose names appear on a preceding page; later the Board designated September 9, 1903, as the day for the opening of the first session of the school.

(Taken from "ANNOUNCEMENT OF THE SOUTHWEST TEXAS STATE NORMAL SCHOOL FOR THE SESSION BEGINNING SEPTEMBER 9, 1903, AND ENDING MAY 17, 1904.", pages 7-8). The same sketch appeared continuously through the years 1910-11.

The same historical sketch of the school appeared in the school catalogs for several successive years, the first change being in bulletin for 1912-1913.

HISTORY

The Twenty-sixth Legislature in 1899 enacted a law providing for the establishment of "The Southwest Texas State Normal School" and entrusting its management and control to the State Board of Education. The Twenty-seventh Legislature in 1901 further authorized the State Board of Education to appoint a Local Board of three Trustees to act under the direction of the State Board in the management of the school. The Southwest Texas State Normal School opened its First Annual Session September 9, 1903, and during the school year enrolled 303 pupils. The enrollment has increased steadily and for the scholastic year 1911-12 reached 619 pupils. The State Board of Education and the Local Board continued in control until December, 1911, when the Board of Normal Regents created by the Thirty-second Legislature assumed complete authority over the school.

The Normal School Bulletin, July, 1912- p. 9.

In the bulletin for the year 1914-1915 no significant change was made in the historical sketch save a comment as follows:

The Thirty-third Legislature in 1913, put into effect the constitutional amendment lengthening the terms of the board of directors of State institutions to six years, increased the number of Normal regents from five to six, and directed their division into three classes, two members to be appointed each biennial period. It is believed that this policy in the selection of the Normal regents combines conservatism and progress in the administration of the Normal Schools.

Bulletin of the Southwest Texas State Normal School, Twelfth Annual Session, 1914-1915. p. 7.

HISTORY

The enrollment of the Normal School has increased from 303 pupils in 1903-4 to 1087 pupils in 1916-17 while the faculty has grown in the same length of time from twenty teachers to forty teachers. The standards of the school have been raised so that for the session of 1917-18 three years work of college rank will be offered, and for the session of 1918-19 four years college work will be offered, leading to Bachelor's Degree in Education.

Southwest Texas State Normal School Bulletin for the years 1917-18.

In the same year (1913) the normals were made junior colleges by the addition of two years work of college rank. In 1917 the Board of Regents raised the standard of the State Normals by authorizing the addition of two extra years of work of college rank, thereby making them standard senior colleges. In 1919 the Board of Regents with the approval of the State Department of Education designated the Southwest Texas State Normal College to offer a course of study in vocational home economics under the Smith-Hughes law. The Southwest Texas State Normal College now offers four years of standard senior college work leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Arts.

Catalog- 1921-1922, p. 9.

The Thirty-eighth Legislature in 1923 changed the name of the College to the Southwest Texas State Teacher's College at San Marcos. The Southwest Texas State Teachers College now offers four years of standard senior college work leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Science and Bachelor of Arts.

Catalog- 1927-1928.

The Forty-first Legislature in 1929 enacted a law increasing the members of regents from six to nine providing for the appointment of three members each biennial period.

Chapter III

Regular Faculty Members Listed by Years

Seventeen men and women composed the faculty for the first year of the Normal school in 1903-1904. Of the sixty-two teachers comprising the teaching force of the college in 1938-39 only three of the original seventeen remained. Mrs. Lucy Burleson, Secretary, Librarian, and Assistant in English in 1903-1904, is now periodical librarian; Mrs. Fitz-Hugh Foster (Mrs. Willie S. Hons) is librarian at the local high school, now a part of the demonstration school; Miss Mary Stuart Butler, Music, occupies a similar position today designated as Fine Arts. Of these three Miss Butler's term of service alone has been continuous.

Mr. Blair holds a teaching position in the Education department of the North Texas State Teachers College at Denton. W. A. Palmer, whose name appears for the last time in 1907-1908 took up the study of law. His present address is unknown to the writer. Miss Helen Hornsby is now Mrs. Charles Crawford living in San Marcos, while Miss Maud M. Shipe is Mrs. A. W. Birdwell of Nacagdoches. Mrs. Lillie T. Shaver, S. W. Stanfield, Miss Lula Hines, and Miss Jessie A. Sayers are retired from active duties. Of the remaining faculty members, Alfred Freshney, Miss Kate E. White, John E. Pritchett, J. S. Brown, T. G. Harriss-president, and Miss Annie Pearsall have, in the order named, passed on to the reward promised by the Great Teacher of men.

It is interesting to note with what apparent indifference as to training and qualifications the names appear. Evidently less emphasis was placed on degrees then than at present for it is known that the majority of the teachers in the beginning days were college trained with bachelor degrees while some had attained the masters. It was not until 1912-1913 that the faculty list first showed a recognition of degrees.

The Laboratory School

In compiling the names of faculty members it seemed wise to make a separate list for the Training School due to several changes and adjustments which have been made since its definite establishment in 1914-1915.

Prior to this date, 1912-1913, the practice school had been started with an agreement with the public schools that their facilities be used. From the catalog of the school for this year in the faculty list, page 7, appears the names of Miss Annie Cavet and Miss Dove Cavet listed as critic teachers. This teaching arrangement seems to have continued until the school year 1914-1915.

A further evidence of a practice school is given by the appearance of a course, in the catalog for 1912-13, Education 12, that has to do with observation and practice teaching.

Education 12. Practice Teaching 1 Unit

This course offers observation work and practice teaching for students of the senior class. Capable students, critic teachers, or members of the Faculty will give illustrative lessons with classes of children. Under the direction of a member of the Faculty and a critic teacher, the student prepares a plan for the recitation. Teachers supervise the instructions of the student and through conferences give helpful criticisms of his teaching. It is believed that this course will give clear ideas of the essentials of good instructions and promote effectiveness in teaching. ¹

Manuel School Bulletin, July 1912, No. 4, page 27.

In the catalog for 1914-15 is found the names of the seven teachers that comprised the first training school faculty-Comments in the catalog relative to the purposes and the plans of the school are given as they occur the years being 1914-15, 1915-16, 1921-22, and 1933-34. Repetitions in these catalogs-Comments seemed unnecessary duplications in this paper.

Another fact relative to changes which might result in confusion is a change in organization. As the college work was added year by year there appeared the Normal School and the College operating simultaneously. In time, the Normal School became the sub-college and later became the high school part of the Training School. We find that the changes were shown by the faculty list as,

Normal School Faculty 1922-23

Sub-College, 1923-24

Sub-College and Training School 1924-25

Training School 1925-26

In this chapter teachers names do not appear unless listed under "Training School". Attention is called to the fact that the name of Training School was changed to Demonstration School in 1927-28.

Beginning with the session of 1933-34 there was agreement formed between the college and the public schools of the city of San Marcos whereby facilities were enlarged for practice teaching. The increase in the Demonstration School faculty for this year is thus explained. For further explanation the catalog comment is included. The Training School was housed at first in a wooden structure being replaced by the Education Building in 1918. At this time there was an arrangement with the public schools which the College hoped would lead to a consolidation of East End School with the Training School. However, this lasted for one year only. While the Education Building was under construction the East End building was used.

Importance.- Since the founding of the first State Normal School in our country by Horace Mann, the training school has been considered an indispensable part of the Normals. It is the laboratory where principles in education are worked out on a scientific basis, tested and applied. It reduces the time of experimentation of the young teacher to the minimum by placing him in a school room with ordinary conditions and giving him the advantage of both seeing educational principles applied and of applying them himself under the direction of a specialist.

Method.- The experience that the student teacher gains through teaching in the training school is more profitable than that gained in the ordinary schoolroom, in that the practice is done under the direction of a special supervisor and critic teachers, and according to, conscious guiding educational principles. It is taken after a study of the general principles of education (Ed. 4) and parallel with the study of the teaching process (Ed. 12). The training school is the place where the theory and practice meet and reinforce each other. The teaching is supplemented by observation. An attempt is made to have the school a model one for observation, as well as a laboratory for practice. While the school is established for the training of teachers, the interest of the pupils is considered first; for only by this means can a training school serve the end for which it is created.

Organization.- For the accomplishment of this work, the training school comprises all the grades from the first to the ninth inclusive. Pupils completing satisfactorily the ninth grade are admitted to the Freshman Class of the Normal School. Each grade is in charge of a critic teacher who has had special training for the work of the grade. The problems of the ordinary school, such as classroom management, playground supervision, organization of games and direction of athletics are solved in the training school. The student-teacher, under the direction of critic teacher, solves these real school problems, thus preparing him to handle effectively the problems of the graded and ungraded schools of Texas. 1.

The necessity of the Training School as a part of the work of the Normals was clearly indicated by Horace Mann, the father of the American Normals, when he said their work consisted of academic subjects, professional subjects, and practice teaching. The practice school bears the same relation to the profession of teaching as the laboratory does to science, or as shop work does to Manual Training.

The Training School of the Southwest Texas State Normal school is organized to do all the primary, intermediate, and grammar grades, and the first two years of high school. It prepares pupils for the Freshman year of the Normal proper. Every room is provided with a critic teacher, who does much of the actual teaching, supervises observation work and student teaching, and is responsible for the order and discipline of the room. By planning the lessons before and submitting them to the teacher, the student soon finds himself able to do effective teaching.

As students are to get practice that will train them for real schools, of the State, they are required to solve some of the problems themselves, under the guidance of a competent director. The critic teacher allows the student as much freedom and originality in both method and management as is consistent with sound principles of modern pedagogy.

The supervisor connects the theory of education in the Normal with the practice of the Training School. She gives the pupils general principles and then requires observation and reports on their practical application in the class room. When reports on observation work show that students clearly understand the principles taught, they are placed in charge of the room to do their own practice teaching.

The principal has general control of pupils and bears the same relation to critic teachers that a principal of a ward school bears to his teachers.

The aim is to supply, for observation, as nearly as possible, a model school under ideal conditions. The course of study as such an adaptation of the State Course and Texas City Courses that pupils from other schools can be adjusted readily to it. ¹

In the explanation of the work done by the training school, the content is the same as previously given save for the paragraphs which follow:

In addition to this school, there is available for observation and practice teaching a two-teacher rural school located about two miles from the college. This work is also conducted by trained supervisors, and students may have expert supervision in planning to meet rural problems. As many as eight students may do practice teaching in this school each term. Transportation is provided.

A school for Spanish speaking children in this district is also supervised by the Normal College, and is used for observation purposes. Here one may see being worked out the problems similar to those found in many schools of this section. ¹

A training school is a very necessary department of any Normal School. It bears the same relation to professional training of teachers as a laboratory bears to the training of scientists, or a workshop to the training of artisans. An opportunity is here afforded to the student to observe actual teaching by experienced teachers, to do practice teaching under the supervision of experts, and to see the administrative details of school organization in operation. It serves further as a laboratory in which new educational theories may be tested by experiment, and where proposed methods may be adapted to the various conditions under which the students will be required to teach.

The Training Schools of the Southwest Texas State Normal College offer a wide variety of opportunities for practice teaching, making it possible for the prospective teacher to get actual experience in almost whatever field he may desire. Most of the practice teaching is done in the Education Building, where there is available for both observation and practice teaching a kindergarten, an elementary school of six grades, a junior high school of three grades, and a senior high school of two grades. This work is under the immediate supervision of the following special supervisors: kindergarten, primary grades, intermediate grades, grammar grades, and special supervisors for each subject in the high school.

In addition to this school, there is available for observation and practice teaching a three-teacher rural school located about two miles from the College. This work is also conducted by trained supervisors, and students may have expert supervision in planning to meet rural problems. As many as sixteen students may

In all the training schools conditions are kept as nearly normal as possible so that the practice will actually function in the public schools in which the student teachers will probably work.

The supervisor is responsible for the order and discipline of the room, and at the same time directs the observation and teaching of the student teacher. Written plans of all lessons are made by the student teacher and submitted to the supervisor for approval before they may be taught. The student is allowed as much freedom and originality in both method and management as is consistent with sound educational principles.

The theory of education taught in the Normal College is connected with practice in the Training School by the supervisor. She instructs the student in the general principles of class room procedure and then requires reports on their practical application as observed in the work of the supervisor. Not until these reports show clearly that the student understands thoroughly the principles taught is he placed in charge of a room to do his own teaching.

In order that the observation and practice work of the student teacher in the Training School may function properly in actual teaching in the schools of Texas, the grading and courses of study are made to conform as closely as possible to the organization of the best schools of the State. It must not be inferred, however, that this precludes the introduction of the latest and best ideas in educational theory and practice. Only a substantial equivalent will necessarily be maintained.

Beginning in September, 1933, the Public Schools of the city of San Marcos became the Demonstration Schools of the Southwest Texas State Teachers College.

The white Elementary and Junior High School pupils of the city of San Marcos are to be taught in the Education Building of the College. This building, erected in 1918, of reinforced concrete and remodeled in 1929 at a total cost of $105,000, is modern in all respects and contains an auditorium a gymnasium, two textbook store rooms, a reference library, ten teachers' offices, and twenty-one classrooms.

This plan supplies the college with a campus demonstration school of sixteen teachers and approximately 500 pupils in grades one to eight inclusive.

Also, by the terms of the cooperative arrangement, the Senior High School of the city of San Marcos, located in the present city high school building, becomes the Demonstration School for high school teacher-training. The high school is located about four blocks from the college campus and has ten teachers and approximately 250 students and consists of the ninth, tenth, and eleventh grades.

This new arrangement gives the Teachers College ample practice teaching facilities for meeting the requirements of the most exacting accrediting agencies. It has the further and most important advantage of providing practice teaching facilities in their natural setting, that is, under real normal public school conditions, and in a real public school.

In addition to the facilities of the San Marcos public school system, the College will have available also for practice teaching on a less formal basis certain facilities offered by urban schools in small towns nearby.

CHAPTER V

Management and Control Agencies of the College

The Twenty-seventh Legislature placed the Southwest Texas State Normal School under the management of the State Board of Education and authorized this board to appoint a local board of three trustees, a similar plan having been in operation at the Sam Houston Normal Institute since its establishment. Thus, the agencies of management in the beginning consisted of the above mentioned boards, the latter being for the most part honorary.

The enactment, the names of both boards until 1911 when this plan ceased, reports of the local board follows:

SOUTHWEST TEXAS NORMAL SCHOOL

S. B. No. 142

Chapter XXIX

Sec. 3. The State Board of Education shall appoint a local board of three trustees for the Southwest Texas Normal School, who shall be residents of the city of San Marcos and who shall perform such duties as may be required by the State Board of Education and such other duties as are required by law of the local board of the Sam Houston Normal Institute and shall receive the same compensation; and the State Board of Education shall exercise all of the powers and control over the Southwest Texas Normal School that said board is authorized by law to exercise over the Sam Houston Normal Institute and the salaries of teachers shall never exceed what is allowed by law for teachers in the Sam Houston Normal. 1.

REPORTS OF THE LOCAL BOARD OF TRUSTEES

Annual Report of the Local Board of Trustees 1903-1904

To the Honorable, the Board of Education of the State of Texas:

Gentlemen: We, the Local Board of Trustees of the Southwest Texas State Normal School, hereby make our report for the session which closed on May 17, 1904:

Three hundred and three students were in attendance during the term. Of these twenty-eight seniors completed the course and received diplomas.

One hundred and four Juniors completed the course and received First Grade Certificates.

Eighty-two students completed the Freshman course and received Second Grade Certificates.

We take pleasure in commending the Principal and his corps of instructors for their punctuality, industry, and the intelligent discharge of their duties. We are also highly gratified at the good discipline, zealous effort, and orderly behavior manifested by the great body of students.

We note that during the last quarter of the term the attendance was fifty-eight boys and 206 girls. We believe that our public schools should have a greater number of male teachers than is indicated in the attendance of this school. We therefore suggest that those who have the appointment of State students, make effort to secure the attendance of a greater number of young men.

The several appropriations made by the last Legislature have been expended in the necessary improvements to the buildings and grounds, including water, light, fencing, furniture, chemical apparatus, and fire protection.

We take this occasion to express to your Honorable Board our appreciation of the interest and assistance you have so uniformly rendered in all matters pertaining to the school.

The recent appropriation by the Legislature of ten thousand dollars, to construct a building for the use of the Science Department, is very opportune and will provide a much-needed improvement.

INCREASING MEMBERSHIP OF BOARD OF REGENTS
 OF STATE TEACHERS COLLEGES TO NINE

S. B. No. 130) Chapter 135.

An Act providing for nine members of the Board of Regents of the State Teachers Colleges instead of six members and declaring an emergency.

Be It Enacted By The Legislature Of The State Of Texas:

Section 1. Hereafter the Board of Regents of the State Teachers Colleges of this State shall be composed of nine persons to be appointed by the Governor of the State of Texas. Immediately upon the taking effect of this Act the Governor shall appoint three new members, so that the term of one of said members shall expire simultaneously with the expiration of two of the present members of the Board, one to expire simultaneously with two other members of the Board and a third to expire simultaneously with the remaining two members of the Board, and the term of office of each shall be six years. The Board thus constituted shall be charged with the powers, duties and functions of the present Board of Regents of the State Teachers Colleges and all laws applicable to said Board of Regents and the members thereof shall be likewise applicable to the new board as herein constituted and the members thereof.

Section 2. The tremendous growth of the eight teachers colleges of Texas widely separated from each other in various and remote sections of the State, necessitating and increase in the membership of the Board of Regents of said Colleges, and the fact that this Act should take effect as soon as possible creates an emergency and an imperative public necessity that the constitutional rule requiring bills to be read on three several days in each House be suspended and that this Act shall take effect and be in force from and after its passage and said rule is hereby suspended and it is so enacted.

(Note. S. B. No. 130 passed the Senate 27 ayes, 0 nays; passed the House 162 ayes, 6 nays.)

Approved March 2, 1929.
Effective March 2, 1929.

CHAPTER VI

Facts Pertaining to Enrollment and Graduates

Regular Sessions

Normal School enrollment is given here from the beginning, 1903-04 through 1914. Through the above dates the three year course prevailed, the completion of the Freshman work leading to a second grade certificate, the Junior a first grade certificate, and the Senior a permanent certificate.

Year	Number enrolled
	Total
1903-04	303
1904-05	356
1905-06	416
1906-07	426
1907-08	476
1908-09	510
1909-10	522
1910-11	506
1911-12	619
1912-13	568
1913-14	712

At this point it is found that a distinction was made between enrollment on the "college" level and the "sub-College". The school was gradually merging into an institution of college rank, however, the transition needed to be made gradually, due to the lack of accredited high schools in the country. It is readily seen that the sub-college served as a feeder for the college and at this time was essential to an increased enrollment. At first the term "sub-college" referred to the tenth and eleventh grade level according to L. H. Kidd, later only the eleventh grade was admitted, both of which in time became the last two years of the Training School.

	Sub-college	College	Total
1914-15	237	172	409
1915-16	341	327	668
1916-17	478	463	941
1917-18	327	367	694

In 1917 the Board of Regents raised the standard of the State Normal Schools by authorizing the addition of two extra years of work of college rank thereby making them standard senior colleges. In pursuance of this policy the Normal Schools gave the third year of college work in the session of 1917-18 and the fourth year in 1918-19, such work leading to the Bachelor's Degree in Education.

	Sub-college	College	Total
1918-19	292	337	629
1919-20	266	303	569
1920-21	270	442-	712

In the Catalog for the year 1922-23 in the statistical summary p. 147 a distinction is made between the enrollment for the "Normal College" and the "Normal School". In the Catalogs that follow through 1926-27 "Normal School" is designated as sub-college. According to Dr. E. O. Wiley director of Training School and practice teaching, at that time the sub-college became a part of the Training School during the year 1922-23. This included both the tenth and eleventh grades. It appears from the information gained from the registrars office that the records were kept of sub-college enrollment in the registrar's office until the close of the session of 1925-26. Following this all such records were transferred to the Training School office.

	Sub-college	College	Total

1924-25	292	1066	1358
1925-26	212	1104	1316

Extension work was begun during the year 1923-24 but will be found listed separately since, in the college book-keeping it was not considered a part of the regular enrollment due to the fact that it was self-supporting. May it be noted that the totals given here do not at any time include the extension work.

ENROLLMENT

SUMMER SESSIONS

Because of several changes due to the growth and development of the college, the matter of summer enrollment has been most confusing. Explanations will be given accompanying the data which will make the matters as clear as seem possible at this time. The information has been obtained through a careful check of the catalogs of the school and through reference to a Ledger in the Registrar's office through the courtesy of Hattie Roberts, assistant registrar, and former registrar, L. H. Kidd.

Mr. Kidd is of the opinion that the summer normal work probably did not begin until the summer of 1909. However, there is some indication that this may not be the right conclusion for the Ledger count gives an enrollment of 258 for the summer of 1909 while the catalog gives 468. This difference of 210 undoubtedly represents the summer normal enrollment for that period. Since this is true, such might have been the case for the five preceding summers.

1915	757
1916	976
1917	1386

The very sudden rise in enrollment for 1917 is explained by Mr. Kidd in this way: We had become a Junior College and this was the last year that a student could both graduate and receive a permanent certificate in a period of two years. Later graduation would involve four years' work since we were to become a Senior College in 1918.

A changed system of keeping records is apparent beginning with 1918 hence we are able to make distinctions in the enrollment for different levels.

	Summer Sub- Normal	College	College	Total
1918	295	295	697	1287

1926	183	114	1506	1807
1927	158	—	1718	1876

After 1926 the sub-college became definitely a part of the Training School and all records of such work were kept as a part of the High School. This division became the eleventh grade and to those pupils deservint to be certificated such could be obtained upon successful completion of required education courses.

The Summer Normal Disappeared in 1927.

The meaning of the term "graduate" has under gone several changes due to the expansion of the college. In the beginning graduation was attained upon completion of the three year course. Later when the school became a Junior College graduation meant the completion of two years of college work this giving the student a diploma and a permanent certificate as under the three year course. As the College moved on toward a four year institution there was a time when the completion of the third year constituted graduation. The next upward step was the granting of bachelors degrees which came in 1919 followed in 1937 by granting M. A. degrees.

In this report the organization will show the graduates by years under their several changes. In each instance the facts relative to graduation have been obtained from Catalogs of the school and records kept in the Registrar's office. The writer is most grateful for the aid rendered by Miss Hattie Roberts, assistant registrar, and L. H. Kidd, the former registrar.

The Southwest Texas State Normal School offered a three year course that led to graduation, a diploma and permanent being awarded upon the completion of the course. This plan continued from 1904 through 1914.

The increase in graduates from 1912-14 is due to the fact that since after 1914 no permanent certificates would be issued under the three year plan, thus many availed themselves of these diplomas at this time.

Graduates Receiving Junior College Diplomas

Another year of work was added to the Normal course making it a four year course. Two of the years involved were below college level and two of college level, making the diplomas equivalent to that of a Junior College

EXTENSION ENROLLMENT

Fluctuations in the enrollment of the extension students are noticeable. Several influences must have entered into this situation. Many of the older teachers in such centers as San Antonio during this period had met the requirement for a degree and the newer generation of teachers came in at a time when various colleges within the city were able to provide the desired courses.

According to Dean A. H. Nolle, another factor was the difficulty in maintaining standards when a large part of the teaching was of necessity done by teachers not directly connected with the college. It was also difficult to equalize the teacher load in the campus under these conditions.
