

Project Title: The Bug Wars: Four Hundred Years of Insect Control in the United States

Investigator: McWilliams, James

Department: History

Project summary: This project draws on the papers of American entomologists and the USDA's Division of Entomology to provide a systematic historical investigation into the changing strategies of insect control in the United States.